

Telephone conversation with Carli,

Mom and Dad are on a ski trip to Grand Targhee in Wyoming. They will be back tonight. They are going on a cruise in April. It is called the Wind Jammer. They are going on the Polynesian cruise and will be gone for a week or so.

I'm just working still at ZCMI. I have worked there almost two years. I just have to pay off my car bills. I got a Volkswagen Passat for Christmas from my parents. They put so much down and I am making payments on the rest.

Chelsea is on the ski team at Sundance again this year. She is in seventh grade this year. She still plays the violin.

We stayed here for Christmas. We went to church at 8:30 in the morning and my dad has to sit up at the front to record the talks for the elderly who can't come to church. I knew that he was going to leave church early to come home and set up some new tables for the living room for mom's Christmas present. During church I leaned over to my mom and asked where Dad was and she acted mad that he wasn't there. When I was driving home I opened up the garage and saw my new car. I knew he was setting up tables for her and she knew he was putting the car in the garage for me!

My car is white and is a 1991 and has about 30,000 miles on it and is in perfect condition.

DJ is playing still. He's in 3rd grade and is doing a lot better on his braille. He is a Cub Scout now. He love it and is really excited.

My dad is still a host at Sundance and yesterday on the ski trip he got a chance to go cat skiing. That is where 8 guys go to a top of a mountain where no one has skied before and they got to ski in fresh powder down the mountain. It cost them $150 each to ski down it. I think they get dropped off by a helicopter.

It snowed yesterday and it was hailing yesterday early in the morning. When I got up there was snow everywhere. I hate snow so bad. I'd rather be in Hawaii.

Telephone conversation with Spencer:

I am going to school and Canyon View Jr. High. I like English. I am also taking band. I play the trumpet.

Tracy is renting a house with 4 other guys somewhere in Provo.

Zina is at home--I think she graduated in English but I'm not sure.

Mary's ankle is pretty much healed now.

Anthony--he is 13 and he is doing home school.

At Christmas time we spent it here at home. The snow is pretty deep right now. I like the snow. I like to go out and play in it and throw snow balls and stuff.

Lilly and Alex just got their driver's licenses. They are driving around now--it is weird!
