

After she graduated from Provo High, she attended Brigham Young University until she went on her mission to Argentina in 1974. When Charlotte came home from a successful mission eighteen months later, she returned to her studies at the Y. In the fall of 1977 at the beginning of her senior year at the Y, her parents insisted she go into an apartment with some other girls so she could participate in more of the University activities, and be where she could meet new friends. Her parents also thought she would have a better opportunity to find a marriage companion. Little did they know how fast that was to happen!

Charlotte had hardly moved into her apartment when she met a young man by the name of Bryan Weight who swept her off her feet and married her after a three month courtship on the 17th of December 1977 in the Manti Temple. "He's moving too fast for me, Mother--much too fast," she complained. Too fast for her family, too--because he married Charlotte and moved her away before the family could even get acquainted with him. After they both graduated from the Y in 1978, Charlotte and Brian moved to California where Brian had accepted a position with Bechtel. They didn't even have time to go to the formal University graduation ceremony. The school had to mail their certificates to them!

We're glad we married Bryan! Charlotte and Bryan complement each other remarkably well. And the Hall family think the grandchildren they have produced--Sarah, Hannah, Hyrum, and Willis are GREAT! We think fondly of the brief time they spent in Utah. It gave the Halls a chance to get better acquainted with Bryan and the Weight-Hall Grandchildren.

Charlotte was always a joy to us, and we can truly say that she never gave us a minute's worry. The Halls hope and trust that the Weights love her as much as we do.
